

Kurtis Tompkins
President of Jobready2dey

How long should you expect your job search to take?

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the average duration of a job search is currently close to 5 months.

Factors that impact job search timelines include but are not limited to hiring trends, economic conditions, job seeker location, and job search strategy.

Prepare for your job search using Jobready2dey's FMT formula to achieve the best results.

- Financially
- Mentally
- Tactically

Seek out assistance from vetted industry professionals to help speed up the process.

Reach out to the team at
Jobready2dey for assistance!

<https://www.jobready2dey.com>